Executive Summary

The Pact for the Future, adopted at the 2024 Summit of the Future, outlines 56 transformative actions across sustainable development, peace and security, science and technology, youth engagement, and global governance. It reaffirms commitment to the 2030 Agenda and the Paris Agreement, emphasizing poverty eradication, gender equality, climate action, and human rights. The Global Digital Compact aims to close digital divides, promote inclusive digital economies, ensure safe and rights-respecting digital spaces, advance equitable data governance, and enhance international AI governance. The Declaration on Future Generations commits to safeguarding the needs of unborn generations through intergenerational solidarity, sustainable development, peace, and human rights. The document calls for urgent reforms in multilateral institutions, including Security Council reform, and international financial architecture to support developing countries. It stresses the importance of international cooperation, inclusive participation, and anticipatory governance to build a just, peaceful, sustainable, and prosperous future for all humanity.

- Digital Sustainability (Digital Transformation & Strategy)
- Digital Economy (Digital Transformation & Strategy)
- Digital Skills Development (Digital Transformation & Strategy)
- Artificial Intelligence (Technology & Innovation) - Relevance: 0.9

Justification: Artificial Intelligence (AI) is highlighted as a transformative technology with immense potential to accelerate sustainable development and improve human well-being. The document dedicates substantial content to AI governance, ethics, capacity-building, and international cooperation, reflecting its strategic importance in shaping future digital landscapes. AI governance is linked to human rights, equity, and innovation, making it a central theme in the technology and innovation agenda.

- Gender Equality in Tech (Inclusion & Social Development)
- Digital Education (Inclusion & Social Development)
- Connectivity (Inclusion & Social Development)
- Sustainable Digital Development (Inclusion & Social Development) - Relevance: 0.95

Justification: Sustainable digital development is central to the document's vision of leveraging digital technologies to accelerate progress on the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), ensuring inclusivity, equity, and environmental sustainability. A significant portion of the text is dedicated to digital inclusion, connectivity, digital literacy, and closing digital divides, all framed within sustainable development objectives. It is strategically important as it links digital transformation directly to the core UN agenda of sustainable development and leaving no one behind.

- Global Digital Cooperation (Regional & International Cooperation) - Relevance: 0.92

Justification: Global digital cooperation is a key pillar of the document, especially embodied in the Global Digital Compact annex. The document emphasizes multilateralism, international partnerships, and multi-stakeholder engagement as essential to harnessing digital technologies for the benefit of all countries, particularly developing nations. This theme is strategically critical as it underpins the governance, implementation, and financing mechanisms necessary for digital transformation aligned with global goals.

- Multilateralism (Regional & International Cooperation)

- Digital & Technological Partnerships (Regional & International Cooperation)

Actors

- United Nations (Political Actors) - Relevance: 1.0

Justification: The United Nations is the central actor throughout the document, serving as the main multilateral institution around which all commitments, actions, and reforms revolve. It is repeatedly referenced as the key platform for international cooperation, governance, peace and security, sustainable development, human rights, and digital cooperation.

- United Nations Officials (Political Actors)

- Secretary-General of the United Nations (Political Actors) - Relevance: 0.85

Justification: The Secretary-General is frequently mentioned as a key figure responsible for leading, coordinating, reporting, and supporting the implementation of the Pact's actions and initiatives. The document tasks the Secretary-General with multiple mandates including reporting on progress, strengthening UN capacities, and facilitating international cooperation.

- Member States (Political Actors) - Relevance: 0.75

Justification: Member States are the primary decision-makers and implementers of the commitments and actions outlined in the document. They are responsible for adopting reforms, fulfilling obligations, engaging in negotiations, and ensuring national-level implementation of the Pact's goals.
